

Just Keep Shopping (everything will be okay)

Basement Project Space,
Camden Quay, Cork, Ireland
19th Nov. - 5 Dec. 2010

Join art collective Sociable Science in their Talking-Social-Swap-DIY-Pop-up-Activist-Support-your-local-businesses-Drop-in-Workshop-Sustainable-economic-research-while-they-trade-and-float-a-new-currency Shop.

For the duration of Art Trail Festival 2010, Sociable Science will be exploring and testing out the various activities which have been used in Cork as alternatives to traditional economic systems. Among other things, they will be printing and floating their own currency The Debloom, which will be the sole currency used in store. Shoppers are invited to haggle over prices and hawk their wares in their multi-functioning shop.

The project starts its roving Debloom Bingo on Nov 19th and continues with a series of talks, workshops and screenings in their shop in Basement Project Space including:

Nov 20th: Shop Opening/Debloom Bingo/Ribbon Cutting Ceremony

Nov 23rd & December 2nd: DIY/Sustainability Workshops

Nov 27th: “Creative Economics” Discussion

Nov 30th: “Can Alternative Economics Pay the Bills” Discussion

See www.sociablescience.wordpress.com for full event listings. Also check out their Facebook and twitter feeds for updates and discussions. Contact: sociablescience@gmail.com

